September 2026

Dear Ones of United Trinity Parish,

Have you noticed that daylight ends sooner lately? And the cicadas are deafening in early evening. We have seven feisty hummingbirds at the feeders. A couple are nectar hogs, and all are trying to fatten themselves up to head south. These and more signs used to make me sad, because I knew the freedom of summer was on its last legs.

But I also would get excited because school was about to start! An antiseptically clean-smelling school, shiny floors, and fresh school supplies gave such hope for the new school year.

And as I write this, it is the first day of school at many districts in the area. A few of us met at Mormon Trail school to pray for all things relating to the school. We covered all involved: kids, teachers, school board members, bus drivers, parents, administrators, janitors, cooks, churches, community members. You name them, we prayed for them. But we also requested safety and guidance so students will gain what God desires them to have from the educational experience.

A productive student stays healthy and has self-esteem for dealing with each day. That's why a child having his or her own bed for solid sleep habits and personal space is key. Ron Gibbs of Corydon gave an excellent Counting Sheep mission presentation at your churches on making 200+ beds for local children. If you're moved to help, contact your church on how to do that. Be blessed and rested in September!

Shalom, Pastor Diane
