Pastor's Thoughts

It was recently brought to my attention that there isn't much on the church calendar for the month of June. There really are months like that. But each of us needs time to plan for things to come. We all need time to plan for the future. But we also need to remember what we need to do now.

In June we will finish up our Bible study of Revelation. It has been a great study and a lot of fun in the process of learning. We will stop for the summer and then start back in September. If there is any book of the Bible you would like to study, let me know.

We also have Father's Day in the month of June as a time to honor those who are fathers, or a father to us in some way. We look at fathers of the past. We see the fathers of today, and we can see hope in fathers of the future.

We will also be working on Watermelon Days. We need to think about VBS or some type of summer activity for the kids of the community. For those who are wondering, I will be looking at different ideas for Advent. All pastor's use the time that is slower to look at and plan for the times that are very busy.

May June give each of us the time to plan, enjoy and care for the world in which God has given to us.

Pastor Donna
