Pastor's Thoughts

After Easter we often go back to a normal way of life. My baptismal robe is washed and put away, ready for the next baptism. I took a day to catch up at home and prepare for all the rest of the things we need to do in this next month.

The Disciples did the same thing; they went back to their normal lives. They went back to fishing. Jesus came to them on the Sea of Galilee and let them know they were not done doing God's mission on this earth. They were to go and preach the gospel. They were not to go back to their old life. They were to go and make disciples.

We are called to do the same. We are to bring more people into the church and into the family of God. We are to keep inviting and keep serving our Lord. We are not told that at a certain time we can stop working for our God. We just keep going. It may not be the same thing as before, but there is excitement in the willingness to change people and change jobs. Nothing stays the same, because Christ arose! We have to look for the opportunities to give more to the world around us, just not more of the same, but more of Jesus.

The disciples had to be jolted to start doing what they needed to do. We need the same jolt at times. Look for opportunities to ask new people to do something. They might even say yes. This is what we are called to do.

Pastor Donna
